C.P.R. TO INAUGURATE A NIGHT TRAIN SERVICE

Between Calgary and Edmonton

Recognizing the great advantage it would be to the business men of the cities of Calgary and Edmonton in being able to travel between the two cities on night trains, thus saving loss of considerable time, and also recognizing the advantage it would be to the persons living in the towns between Calgary and Edmonton to travel to the respective stations from distances within a hundred miles on the morning train, transact their business, and return in the afternoon of the same day, the Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to inaugurate a tri-weekly night service with the issue of the summer time table, about June 1st, giving the same a thirty day trial.

The time of the train has not yet been definitely decided, but it will leave Calgary and Edmonton alternate nights about 24 o'clock and arrive at destination about 8.30 o'clock.

The train will run to Red Deer in each direction without making more than one or two local stops, passing through Red Deer about 4.45 or 5 o'clock and picking up any local passengers who wish to go to Strathcona or Calgary respectively.

If at the end of thirty days it is found there is not sufficient extra business offering to justify the additional expense of this service it will be discontinued.

Owing to the rapid development of the towns between Calgary and Bassano it has been found necessary to inaugurate an additional local train between these points, to run daily except Sunday, commencing Monday, April 4th. Train will leave Bassano at about 7 o'clock, arriving at Calgary at 10.15 o'clock and arrive at Bassano at 21.30 o'clock, making local stops in both directions.

On the same date an improvement will be made in the running of the train between Lacombe and Castor. The westbound train will leave Castor at 5.30 o'clock, arriving at Lacombe at 11 o'clock, returning, will leave Lacombe at 12.30 o'clock and arrive at Castor at 18.40 o'clock; service being daily except Sunday as at present.

Commencing Tuesday, April 5, a semi-weekly train travelling between Calgary and Aome will be run each Tuesday and Friday, leaving Calgary at 8.05 o'clock, arriving at Aome at 12.35 o'clock, returning, leave Aome at 13.35, arriving at Calgary 18 o'clock. This will open a large section which has previously had no train facilities.

THE NEWS will this week move to new quarters in the Alford Block. Should subscribers not receive their paper next week, they will know we have been unable to get our press in order in time for same.

C. O. F. BANQUET

A Pronounced Success.

The Local Court, Red Deer, Canadian Foresters, held its annual banquet and reunion on Monday eve, 28th inst., in the Alexandra Hotel. Over 100 of the members with their wives and friends sat down to the tables. After the good things provided had been disposed of, the following toast list was given by Bro. T. A. Gaetz, C. R., acting in the capacity of toast master:

Pianoforte solo—E. Welton.
"The King"—
"Army and Navy"—Major Gaetz and Chief Robinie.
"Canadian Foresters"—District Organizer Jno. Muir.
Song—R. Geo.
"Dominion Government"—H. H. Gaetz.
Recitation—H. French.
"Provincial Legislature"—E. Michener, M.P.
"Court Red Deer"—R. C. Brumpton and A. G. Ayres.
Song—R. Geo.

"Town and Trade of Red Deer"—The Mayor and E. B. Welliver.
Piano solo—E. Welton.
Duet—E. Roberts and H. French.
"The Ladies"—F. Turnbull.

The District Organizer, Jno Muir, commented on the fact that the Order had started as an organized and incorporated society in 1870 with 600 members and nothing in the reserve fund, and today stands in the position of having 76,000 members and over three million dollars in the reserve fund; have thirty-one per cent. of the total membership of the twelve leading Canadian societies, and have forty-two per cent. of the total assets of the twelve leading societies. "Last year the society had initiated 7,500 members and added $300,000 to its surplus funds, and this year so far was in excess of the business done for same time last year. He strongly urged upon the young ladies present to make sure and get a husband who was a member of the C.O.F., then they would be sure of one who would provide for them. The local court has over 30 members in good standing, and is in first class shape, and expects to soon have over the 100 mark. The banquet came to a close about 2 a.m., and was certainly a decided success, and reflects credit on all those who had the affair in hand.

At a meeting at the firehall on Wednesday evening it was decided to reorganize the Red Deer band with J. E. Welton as leader. The committee appointed was Messrs. Welton, Meeres and Gee, with R. Taylor secretary-treasurer. The first practice will be this Wednesday evening. Players will be provided with instruments. All interested will be welcome at the practice and meetings.

Overall Factory-Busy.

The overall factory is now meeting with considerable difficulty to keep up with its orders. Manager L. M. Gaetz took a run up north last week and made a contract with one large Edmonton firm to supply them with their entire output. It will take the factory two months, every machine running at full capacity, to finish that one order alone. Mr. Gaetz informs us several other large firms in Alberta have promised to turn their business his way, and he says the Company will have to build their factory right away.

Halley's Comet is Now Visible

May Be Seen at Twilight with Field Glasses.

Cambridge, Mass., March 20.—Halley's comet may now be seen on nights when conditions are favorable with the aid of an ordinary field glass. The most favorable time to look for it is between 6.30 and 7.30 p.m., with the glasses elevated somewhat above the horizon. The comet, the Harvard observatory has the wanderer focussed nightly on their big telescopes, and some interesting photographs of its development are being made.

Professor E. C. Pickering, director of the Harvard observatory, says:—
"The comet is at present in the twilight region. It is in the line of the sun and its brightness is dimmed by the lustre of the great centre of the solar system. Besides, it has not yet attained its maximum brilliancy. That will be May 18. It will be visible all through April, but at its brightest in May."

"At about that time, if the comet does not obscure it, it will be a dazzling sight. About a third of the heavens will be covered with a fiery gold, its great shesheas light will put the stars of the heavens to another, and the night will be remembered for generations. Halley's comet has been noted for its brilliant displays."

How Canada Came Near to Having Such an Upper House.

Ottawa, March 20.—It is not generally known that Canada at one time came near to establishing, or having established, an hereditary aristocracy with a house of peers, formed on the model of the British one. Indeed the act providing the necessary machinery for these was actually placed on the statute books, and all that was needed to bring it into being was Her Majesty's assent.

Fortunately, as most Canadians will agree, Her Majesty was content to allow Canada's development to progress along rational lines, and the act was never called into effect.

When, in 1791, Quebec was divided into Upper and Lower Canada, by an act in which the Governor was given power to appoint a Legislative Council, there was this further provision:

"Be it further enacted by the Queen's Majesty, that any and all persons, heirs or successors, shall think proper to confer upon any subject of the crown, by letters patent under the great seal of either of the said provinces, any hereditary title, rank or dignity of such province, descendable according to any course of descent limited in such letters patent, it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, his heirs or successors, to annex thereto, by the letters patent, the hereditary right of being summoned to the Legislative Council of such province, descendable according to the course so limited with respect to the said title, rank or dignity; and that every person on whom such right shall so be conferred, or to whom such rights shall severally so descend, shall thereupon be entitled to demand from the Governor, Lieutenant Governor or person administering the government of such province, his writ of summons to such Legislative Council at any time after he shall have attained the age of 21 years."

Thus, while Canada had 78 years, till the British North America Act came into being, all the machinery for an hereditary peerage and House of Lords, or, in this case, an hereditary Legislative Council, was in action. In view of the position of the House of Lords in the present British election, the question of what might have been, in regard to Canada, had this act never been put into force, is reviewed as one of the many fruitless, though interesting speculations of history.

Calgary Skyscraper Will Cost $300,000

Senator Loughheed Proposes to Erect Monster Office Building.

TO COVER TEN LOTS.

Calgary, March 23rd.—Senator Loughheed will this year erect a skyscraper on the corner of Seventh avenue and First street west across from the central Methodist church which will cost $300,000 and will be one of the finest office buildings in Western Canada.

When seen yesterday afternoon the senator stated that it was much too early to make any statement as the plans had not even been drawn up. He stated, however, that the building would cover the ten lots, and would cost about $300,000 when completed. He hopes to have it under way before the end of the present year. It will be used exclusively for offices.

THE PURSUIT OF SALLY

And the New Professor in the Woman's College.

By LOUISE OSBORN.

(Copyright, 1910, American Press Association.)

"They'll never think of looking for us here in the grove at this time," Sally Purdon looked anxiously over her shoulder with less confidence than her words implied.

"But what if they don't find us?" asked Sally breathlessly, trying to keep pace with her companion. "If we aren't able to get back to the village in time for the dinner that won't help us very much."

"We'll manage to get back all right," said Sally, looking critically through the trees at the fading light of the autumn sun. "It will be dark enough soon for us to make a dash out through the other end of the grove, through one of the farms, and from there we can get to the village from the upper end. The sophomores won't expect us in that direction."

"Quick!" Sally had suddenly changed the tone of her voice and was crouching with an arm round her companion's waist, a clump of laurel bushes.

"They're in the grove," she whispered. "Lie flat and don't breathe!"

"Oh, dear!" whispered Sally as the sharp eyes scratched her face, but Sally's palm, clapped suddenly over her mouth, cut her complaints short.

The sound of hurried footsteps on the dead leaves whirled round her, and she saw a figure in the distance. "They're here somewhere," said one. "We must get Sally away."

The footsteps suddenly ceased within a few feet of the crouching freshmen.

Sally, with one hand still held firmly over her companion's mouth, waited with every sense alert.

"They're circled up," whispered one, and the sound of the crumpling leaves announced at least a temporary relief for the freshmen. When the sounds were lost in the distance Sally crawled carefully from the bushes, dragging her friend, limp and distracted, with her.

SLAUGHTERED PART THE ELABORATED SOPHOMORES

"I can't move a step," Julia begged. "I'm so drowsy, I feel Sally, with a groan, said, 'If the girls had known you were such a baby they would never have elected you vice president.'"

"Oh, I wish they hadn't," she groaned. "Do they steal just the officers?"

"Of course. Just me and you and the treasurer and the secretary," Sally explained, attempting to be proud and to be worth stealing. "Let's make a dash for the farm now before they come back."

Argument having failed, Sally tried to carry her friend by using force. "Quick!" she urged. "They're coming."

The returning footsteps only made the timid vice president more timid.

"I can't move!" she moaned. Suddenly the figure of a sophomore sprang from behind the shadows of the trees. Julia started to scream.

"Silence!" commanded the sophomore in loud solemnity.

The plucky little freshman president let go her hold on her helpless friend, and the attempted grasp of a second sophomore who had appeared on the scene and ran with a sure foot and a steady pulse through the dark grove toward the farm and the open country beyond.

She leaped skillfully over a fence, dashed down a country lane, crept under a hedge and found herself on the open highway that led to the village.

It was now about 6 o'clock, and she had half an hour to make her way through the mazes and traps of the vigilant sophomores for her expectant classmates awaiting her in gala attire at one of the village tea rooms.

Freshmen presidents could drop their purses and reached their class banquet, but they had been disguised as peddlers or smugglers in tied up laundry bags or wrapped in burlap and delivered from canteen's wagons hours before the banquet.

"I'll just have to trust to luck and my own muscles," thought Sally with undaunted nerve, as she walked along the country road.

But when, as she rounded the last corner and turned into the village street, she heard the sound of quick footsteps behind the hedge at her side she felt a fainting sense of defeat.

"There she is," she heard some one

call, and Sally made a sudden cut across the street.

She dashed through the shadow of one of the college buildings. Safe for a moment, she crouched along the wall to the corner of the building. Then, with head bent forward, she made another quick turn and rushed headlong into—

With a quick sense of relief it came to her that sophomores didn't wear overcoats. It was only a professor.

"Excuse me," she said, trying to get it better, but the professor was an everyday occurrence.

"Sally!" he said, and for a moment the plucky freshman president lost her pluck and forgot all about the pursuing sophomores and the expectant classmates.

"Stephen Dmy," she gasped, "how could I be here?"

"How could I what? Didn't you know I was here?" The man stood before her in bewilderment.

"How could I? Why, I didn't even know that you knew I was here," she stammered, trying to make herself clear. "Oh, you are the most unreasonable man in the world. Did you come today?"

"Come today, Sally! Why, I'm a professor here. I thought I'd try to bury myself here with my books and forget the going to school."

"Oh," said Sally in surprise, "and I came here to get my degree." She wrung her hands with impatience.

"Stephen, if you are so inconsiderate, you ought to have known that I'd want to come here to college. And I was having such a nice time, and now you're going to spoil it all. Why will you be so persistent?"

"You can jolly well change your mind about my persistence, Sally. Why—because he clutched his hands helplessly at his side—"Why, Sally, I—I shan't even speak to you—only, of course, as an instructor."

"As an instructor? Stephen, are you really an instructor?" Sally laughed a funny little laugh that made Stephen wince. "Well, I'm sure I beg your pardon, Mr. instructor, for talking into you."

The sound of the exasperating sophomores urged Sally on. "Good-bye, Stephen," she said, but Stephen detained her with an outstretched hand.

"Just once, Sally," he began. "Do you want me to chuck the whole thing and get away?"

"Why, no, of course not," she assured him, preoccupied with the sound of the sopping shoes and Stephen's past him and crouched down. Then, with a sudden determination, she whispered, "Stephen!"

He turned and came back. "Help me, Stephen," Sally whispered, rising to her feet. "They're after me—the sophomores. You're not an instructor, Stephen, and Stephen there's a mess—her hands clutched his arm convulsively—"please get me to the banquet, and I'll be—"

A BIASED WEEKLY.

The Edmonton Saturday News
had the following in its leading article last week:

"Up to the present there has not been a tittle of evidence presented to justify the general accusations of crookedness which are being made,
not only in the province but outside it,
in regard to the members of the government. The Calgary Albertan has denounced the bargain as a reckless one, and has conducted a campaign against the administration in connection with it which has been the strongest single factor in creating adverse public sentiment. But when all the discussion in the House was over,
it said:

"The Alberta does not believe that there has been graft in connection with this transaction; at least it has learned nothing which gives that impression."

But we have the High River Times
speaking of the province as being "robbed and plundered by a set of grubbers," and the Red Deer Newspaper, which the government "stands charged with the most flagrant acts of corruption." As we descend in the scale of responsibility, the stronger
the language becomes. A situation has thus been created which it was imperative to clear up."

The Saturday News when it first appeared said it was published to fill a long felt want. It then spoke of the power of the weekly press. It showed the editor, was generally behind all that appeared in his paper. He exercised a powerful influence over the community at large. He was the great bulwark of the people, etc., etc. The Saturday News still clings to the argument that the weekly (itself) is a power in the land. But of the other leading weeklies that have dared to express an opinion on the great issues before the people, it remarks contemptuously
"as we descend in the scale of responsibility, the stronger the language becomes." It is a dirty bird that fouls its own nest by sneering at the weekly press. As a matter of fact the Saturday News has always given the Rutherford Government an untram-melled support. It is claimed by some to be the attorney general's mouthpiece. We are warranted in believing it has had its pockets lined with money from the public cheque in the way of printing.
It now says "there is not a tittle of evidence presented to justify the general accusation of crookedness." A tittle is a small atom.
We cite the mutilated files as one instance to prove the News is extravagant and even dishonest
in its statements. Those mutilated files would defeat any government. There is no doubt that the mutilation took place to conceal guilt.

The straightforward weekly,
having no desire to hedge, at once says so. The Edmonton News, on the other hand, is defensive, negative and insulting.
This Journal may not be so high in the "scale of responsibility" as the Edmonton News but at least we are able to pay our bills

when they become due, and we can truthfully look any man in the face and say that our plant is free from debt. If the Edmonton News can say the same thing it knows what it is to feel independent of any party,
 creed, clique or power.

NOT ADVISABLE TO SOW GRAIN TOO EARLY

The Deputy Minister of Agriculture and other authorities have been advising the farmers to sow grain as soon as possible. The News takes exception to "such advice and claims it is contrary to fact and experience of old timers in this country. All government returns from experimental farms in the west prove that oats, for instance, sown the middle of April give the best return;
barley a week later. The reason is obvious. After that date the soil is generally warm and the grain does not experience a set back. Early sown grain lies in the ground for long periods,
sometimes rots, weak seeds die,
and if the grain sprouts and gets
a fair start it is frozen down.
This does not apply to spring wheat which should be sown at the earliest possible moment.
Then the early sown grain is often handicapped by weeds. The grain is slow in germinating, but the weeds get a good start and nothing will kill them and so in many cases the grain crop is virtually ruined.

The News advises farmers to get all the land possible ready for crop, keep the ground well harrowed down to preserve moisture
and sow grain at the regular time.
Often the extra harrowing, besides killing innumerable weeds, will also assure the farmer of an additional crop of from twenty-five to fifty per cent. There is altogether too much slipshod farming done in the West. This year the farmers have a splendid opportunity of testing the question of thorough cultivation. Get all the land ready you can at once, work down thoroughly, and then give an extra harrowing just before seeding, and the grain will look after itself.

PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS.

The Lethbridge Herald, Hon.
Mr. Buchanan's paper, in an article dealing with affairs at Edmonton, says "there was no need for an investigation to prove that the bargain the province made with the company was a bad one.
By hastening to make changes
that would benefit the province,
both the government and the company admitted most frankly that they had given the people the short end of the deal. The people want to know just how bad it was, and they want to know, too, how the bonds were handled and where the money went to. They want to know all the correspondence in connection with the transaction. In other words they want to know exactly where the whole matter stands and how the men to whom they entrusted the reins of government

stand in regard to it.

"Premier Rutherford and his cabinet have already clearly lost the confidence of the people of Alberta because of their carelessness, to say the least, in this matter. If there is not a change in the government before the house meets again, it is very clear that whatever the outcome of the investigation may be, there will be a change very soon after.
It looks as if it would be impossible to carry on the government of the province unless a change is made."

ALBERTA'S GOVERNMENT MIGHT GET A FEW POINTERS.

(Toronto Telegram.)

Ontario wants a government that can throw the public accounts committee wide open to the inquiries of the A. G. McKay opposition.

The administration headed by Sir James Whitney is, in the main, a government that has nothing to conceal.

"The Laurier government needs partisans to head off enquiry into its transactions at Ottawa.

Ontario has a different variety of government; and Sir James Whitney cannot look with admiration on the spectacle of cabinet ministers and other partisans going to the public account
committee and sitting on the lid
of an enquiry into the administration of lands and mines.

The glory of the Whitney government has been its strength.
The strength that invites and defies enquiry is a thousand times
better politics than the smartness
which seeks to suppress enquiry.

ANOTHER COUNTRY HEARD FROM

One of the strong supporters of John T. Moore in the late contest, residing in the east country, on hearing of C. W. Cross' resignation and the troublous times in the Rutherford government, said
he knew it was coming to them
but he hardly expected it so soon.
He said Cross and Rutherford knifed Mr. Moore when they failed to come down to his meeting and they were now getting their deserts.

S. P. Fream has been elected mayor of Innisfail, and the new council consists of H.M. Dermott, W. G. Wilson, D. Kremer, G. S.
Thorne, G.S. Kirkham and W.
Gunston. We congratulate S.P.
on his elevation to the highest position in the gift of the people of his native town and feel sure
he will make good.

Alienating Water Power.

The Government Got a Fight
Last Week and Some Bills
May Not Go Through

Ottawa, March 24.—For long years, judging by the results of general elections, the people of Canada have refused to believe that the Liberal party was laying ruthless hands on the natural resources of the Dominion, and handing them over to private parties on this side of the line, or even to American interests. But so wholesale has been the alienation that this vast country is coming near the end. There is little left. Her lands, forests and mines have gone into the hands of speculators, and the people at large have received nothing for them. The fisheries are being depleted, many of the most valuable have been depleted, to satisfy the appetites of the people of the United States, but when it is noted that the monopolies have been given to American companies, and a Canadian fisherman cannot fish in his own waters, the situation is causing a grinding
of the teeth.

Practically the last to go is the water power. Any thinking man will realize what this means. Yet here we have before Parliament
two immense projects to alienate
from the people a huge water power at Cornwall, huger than the power at Niagara, and another of James Connors' schemes to capture the jig water powers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, all of which are to be handed over to Americans. Of course, some individuals on this side will profit

but the people at large, to whom these water powers belong, are to be robbed.

The Government, however, got a bad fright when the Conservatives fought the Long Sault power steal for a whole day and night.
It drew public attention to the dastardly attempt, and there is now a possibility that these schemes may not go through.
Hon. Clifford Sifton has broken with the government on this alienation of power issue, and he may do some good, but what is really wanted is the awakening of the public conscience. Laurier doesn't care; he never did care.
He will care, however, if the people get after him. Petitions, deputations, resolutions, threats of turning him out of office have all their influence. If the people persist in retaining Laurier with a big majority they must be alert for the public good. The premier has Quebec solid behind him and he can do anything he likes, and he will do anything unless he thinks his premiership is in danger. This is the people's cause and they alone can fight it.

Consolidation of Schools.

Extract from Inspector's Report on Holland School, Manitoba.

Monday morning was very stormy, yet the four vans were on time, each with its complete contingent. This winter has been a great test of the feasibility of transportation in the West. Only two days did the vans fail to make the trip during the whole season.
That is even a record for the C.P.R. Two other mornings one of the vans failed. The punctuality record is as good, one van
was a few minutes late two days,

no. 2 late twice, no. 3, four and
no. 4, four time. Apart from three occasions the degree of lateness was only a few minutes.
These country pupils have all the advantages of a graded school
with none of its disadvantages.
They work all day in school, their evenings are spent at home in study, and not on the street of a town, the morning and evenings
drives give them ample fresh air, exercise and recreation.

SPRING SUITS FOR MEN

ARE READY.

Ready for you to don the first day the spring sun sticks its nose over the horizon. They are the Suits the men of this town will be wearing the next week or so.

There is dash and go in every line; they are Clothes fashioned by the highest salaried tailors in the world.

Something About the Inside of The Clothes You Wear.

One often hears it said of a building or business, "it has a solid foundation."
The "inside" of your clothes—the part
you don't see—is the foundation of the service possibilities of your suit.

The careful hand tailoring
you have heard the salesman
tell you of manifests its worth while the garment is in actual service; it is then you realize the value
of carefully padded
shoulders,
the re-inforced
points where the strain is greatest,
the linen canvas
instead of cotton,
and many other
modern tailoring
ideas.

These distinctive Clothes await your inspection.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Milk By-Law to Come Up Again.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held Thursday evening last, Mayor S. E. McKee in the chair, with Councillors Tallman, Carscallen, J. H. Gaetz, Welliver and Galbraith in attendance.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Wood, Gundy & Co. wrote re debentures.

From Wayburn asking information re. theatres, etc. Answered.

From Climax Road Machine Co. re. graders.

The Union of Canadian Municipalities wrote with regard to telephone lines, etc. Filed.

Messrs. Gerard, Rossie and Archambault, of Sylvan Lake, who were about to visit France, asked for certificate of standing in this community.

From Department of Customs stating the request of the Town for a port of entry had been referred to the minister, and the question would be considered in the near future.

From the Caledonian Iron Works re. pump, stating it will be shipped at an early date. Filed.

Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works wrote giving price of steel cell. Filed.

Aditor Dowsett wrote stating the accounts had been audited to date and found correct.

C. K. Wright wrote re. sidewalk on north side of Imperial Bank. Filed.

The Cricket Club asked for use of Town square for practice, and the Fire Brigade also asked permission to use the grounds.

The Fire Brigade and Cricket Club were given privilege of using grounds, and the commissioners will look into question of leveling grounds and report at next meeting on motion of Councillor H. H. Gaetz.

Chief Meeres asked for raise of salary from $800 to $750 per month, and uniform. Referred to commissioners.

Councillor Welliver introduced and carried through a motion granting Mr. Archambault recommendation of character to take with him to the old country.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The Commissioners brought in the following report:

Since the installation of the waterworks and sewerage systems our streets and ditches require constant attention. Up to the present time we have been unable to find a suitable machine for the work. The Climax Road machine will be a valuable machine for us if it comes nearly up to the claims made for it. The price of this is $17,000. B. E. Hamilton, but the Co. has agreed to pay half the freight charges to get one introduced into this district. As we are in need of this as soon as we can get it, we wired to the Company to send one out on approval. It has been shipped.

Several years ago a Mueller tapping machine was purchased by the Town at a cost of over $100.00. This machine was to tap the water mains for service connection under pressure. It has not been used in this way, however, because the brass fittings used by the town would not fit the machine. Also the service connections have been put into the main with iron pipe, which is not a proper method, because these connections are easily broken under earth pressure. A representative of the Mueller company has here a few days ago and submitted prices on fittings with lead pipe connected to the main. We recommend that we be authorized to accept their quotation (which is submitted herewith), also to order from this company a tapping machine for wooden pipe, so that we can tap these under pressure also, provided their quotation is not over $25.00 for the machine.

We recommend that we be authorized to purchase 100 sets of castings for street service valves from the Alberta Iron Works, Calgary, at their quoted price—$1.25 per set.

We beg to report that the milk by-law only requires milk dealers using vehicles to take out a license, but provides that any cow in town may be inspected by the veterinary inspector.

From all the information we can obtain we believe that the principle of assessing only two thirds of the cost of cement walks to the property fronting or abutting the walks is the most just, and we again recommend that we be authorized to order out on who streets the property owners wish these built on this basis. This should be done at once, as the necessary preparations for building will take some time, and the work should be done as soon as possible.

We have ordered the steel jail cell from the Manitoba Bridge & Iron Works, their price on the amended specifications being $180.00 l.b. Red Deer.

On Monday, the 15th inst.,

tenders were opened for the $7,540 debentures, and were as follows:

Wood, Gundy & Co.	7,928.00
Nay & James	7,890.00
Michener & Carscallen	7,807.00
Ontario Securities Co.	7,777.00
J. Addison Reid	7,765.00
Hornbrook & Whitmore	7,721.00
Burgess & Co.	7,708.00
Brent, Noxon & Co.	7,673.00
J. G. MacIntosh	7,600.00
Slinson & Co.	7,561.00

We accepted the tender of Wood, Gundy & Co., that being the highest. This is a very satisfactory result. The fact that one firm whose tender was considerably lower than Wood, Gundy & Co. for the whole issue bid 101 separately for the 5 per cent issue shows that our standing is high with the bond buyers.

The dog by-law recently passed makes no provision for pound fees or for a dog catcher's fees. We recommend that the pound keeper be allowed 25 cents per day for each dog impounded and the catcher 25 cents for each dog caught and impounded. This is the rate paid under the old by-law.

In view of the experimental tank being built at Strathcona for sewage disposal, and the letter from R. B. Owens, Provincial Sanitary Engineer, that his department would furnish plans and specifications for his system, we recommend that we instruct Mr. Haddin not to come to Red Deer at present to discuss the building of a septic tank, and that later in the year Mr. Owens be invited to visit Red Deer and see if his system will be practicable here.

We have received the following books for the library:

Water Filtration.

Roads and Pavements.

Sewerage.

Disposal of Municipal Refuse.

Engineering Work in Towns and Cities.

These books are at the disposal of any member of the Council who wishes to study them.

We wish to have the streets kept clear of papers and rubbish this summer. Therefore we recommend that we be authorized to purchase and have delivered to us per cart submitted, size 30 in. deep by 24 in. and 16 in. These will cost about $5.00 each, and would be placed at the main street corners for papers and fruit as to be in.

The Commissioners, Chairman of Health Board, Medical Health Officer and Health Inspector inspected the place on Brook St. where manure had been dumped recently, and found that manure had been scattered over a large space. Health Inspector Rothnie was instructed to notify the persons putting it there to level it and cover it with ashes or earth, and if this was not done immediately to summons them.

We have looked over all streets when the water was draining off, and have noted where grading and ditching is needed and catch basins built. We recommend that we be authorized to order the necessary castings for 8 catch basins, and that they be built in the following places as soon as the frost is out sufficiently:

Douglas street, corner River avenue, south side.

River avenue, corner Park street, north side.

Gaetz avenue, corner Stewart street, east side.

Gaetz avenue, corner Stewart street, west side.

Mann street, corner Mackenzie street, east side.

Alexander street, corner Mackenzie street, south side.

Ross avenue, corner Mackenzie street, north side.

The cost of the last catch basins put in was about $70.00 each. With these built the drainage for most of the streets will be taken care of.

We recommend that the insurance policies on the fire hall be changed to $3500 on the building and $500 on furniture and contents, and $1500 be placed on the building and $300 on furniture.

We have herewith accounts for your consideration.

The report was adopted, Councillor Galbraith objecting to the clause of taxation for concrete walks, he favouring taxing all property with the entire cost of the walks.

Messrs. Wilson and Brazier addressed the Council re milk by-law, asking that people in town be treated the same as milk dealers. The Council will look into milk by-law at a future meeting.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were passed and recommended to be paid:

MacLean Pub. Co.	$3.00
V. McMechan	2.00

F. G. Leonard	37.32

Councillor Gaetz moved, seconded by Councillor Carscallen, that whereas it has been made to appear inadvisable that the Union of Canadian Municipalities should derive its support in a way that practically brings it into conflict with the Union of Alberta Municipalities, and whereas it does not appear that the said Canadian Union, as at present constituted, can render any material service to the Municipalities of this Province, therefore be it resolved that the Town of Red Deer do not continue its membership in the Canadian Union of Municipalities but place itself on record as favoring an organization which will act as a bond of unity between the various provincial unions. Carried. Councillor Gaetz said in speaking to the motion that the Canadian Union of Municipalities was of no use to the west; he favored an executive from the different provincial unions to do the business at present done by the Canadian Union, and he contended it would be done much better and more satisfactorily to the provinces. Moved by Councillor Gaetz, seconded by Councillor Tallman, that the fees to be paid for catching and impounding dogs be 25 cents each, and the fees to be allowed the poundkeeper be 25 cents per day. Carried. Councillor Galbraith suggested that the Town should have by-law dealing with real estate men, but as the hour was late the question was laid over for future discussion.

The meeting adjourned shortly after 11 o'clock.

ORANGE MARMALADE.

The best recipe known: Use only Seville Oranges and order them from Huskins. Cut the oranges in halves. Slice the rinds as thin as possible. To every pint of juice and rinds add 2½ pints of cold water. Reserve sufficient out of this liquid to cover the seeds, pulp and inner skin. Let this stand over night, then squeeze through a cloth and add to first part and boil quickly for an hour. The following day weigh the whole, liquid and all, and to every pound add 1¼ pounds of granulated sugar. Boil for an hour and bottle.

As the requirement for a small town is very limited, in order to not get overstocked, I am booking orders now, and when I have enough ordered I shall then buy, and supply at once. Phone 68 or leave your orders at store. Price will be right.

MR. FIELDING HAS NO WORD ABOUT TARIFF

An Early Prorogation Is Now Very Probable.

Ottawa, March 23.—Mr. Fielding still continues to maintain silence regarding the tariff negotiations. He was hard pressed in the house to-day to view the fact that Parliament was on the point of adjourning for a week for the Easter holidays, to make some definite announcement of policy. The house will meet on Wednesday next in the very eve of the day on which, if the deadlock is not broken, the maximum clauses of the Payne-Aldrich tariff will be imposed against Canada.

Mr. Haughton Lennox asked that, having regard to the fact that parliament was now in session, would Mr. Fielding assure the house that the government would not admit the United States to participate in the intermediate tariff, or otherwise substantially alter the tariff condition between Canada and the United States without first submitting the proposals to parliament. Mr. Lennox added that he did not think an answer to that question would involve the disclosure of any state secret, but it would enable the house to understand that it was to be consulted before anything was done.

DISCLOSURE OF POLICY

Mr. Fielding agreed that an answer to the legitimate question of Mr. Lennox would not involve the disclosure of any state secret, but would involve a disclosure of policy which he thought would embarrass the freedom of negotiations, which all desired the government should have. He would ask members of both sides rather to assume that the government was thoroughly seized of the importance of the whole question, and was dealing with it in a manner which they considered to be consistent with the best interests of Canada.

Mr. E. N. Lewis also asked if the government did not consider that it was due to the business community of Canada to give some indication as to whether they were to expect a tariff war or not.

"I am afraid," replied Mr. Fielding, "that with every desire on my part to inform this house generally of what they naturally desire to know in this matter, I am not in a position to give any statement. It will, no doubt, be understood that in negotiations of the character which it is known are now in progress, it would be impolitic in the highest degree to make any statement until a conclusion has been arrived at. At the conclusion of the conference which I had the honor to hold with the president of the United States in Albany, a brief statement was given out in these words: The president and the Canadian minister of finance have been in conference, and while no conclusion has been reached, the matter remains as one of friendly negotiations."

Settlers Pouring Across the Border at Portal

Winnipeg, March 22.—From eighty to one hundred carloads of settlers' effects are being received every day at Portal, and over five hundred horses are being examined daily by the Canadian officials at that point. The immigration officers there are working both night and day, and the force has been doubled in order to keep pace with the great influx of new settlers.

The Battleship Maine Will Now Be Raised

Washington, March 23.—The raising of the United States battleship Maine from Havana harbor is provided for in a bill passed by the house to-day. Under this measure the wreck may be examined to determine the manner of its destruction. The remains of the sailors dead that may be found will be interred in Arlington cemetery. The house also passed a bill providing a penalty of not more than $1,000 fine, or imprisonment for not more than two years in the case of any proprietor of a place of amusement in the district of Columbia and the territories who may refuse admission to a soldier or sailor of the United States because of his uniform.

A DRY SEA.

A salt mine that was an ocean in the Remote Past.

"A dry sea" sounds like a contradiction in terms, but it is just what the great salt mine of Stanica, Roumania, has become.

Millions of years ago what is now the site of a thriving underground community was nothing less than an ocean. In the course of evolution, however, the waters of this sea evaporated or dried up, but the salt which contained remained.

To-day the salt mining operations at Stanica are so extensive that a veritable host of ships is employed where only fishes could survive when the earth was young.

This salt mine produces nearly 100,000 tons of salt a year, and the supply is so large that at that rate it will be 200 years before the remains of the ancient sea are entirely exhausted.

Some idea of the extensive proportions of this salt mine may be had when it is said that despite the large amount of salt removed each year the floor of the mine is lowered only six feet six inches annually.

Thousands of men and women are constantly employed in the works, and stores and dwellings have been erected on the mine itself, which is some 400 feet below the surface. It is the operatives the time and trouble it takes to raise the salt to the surface.

While a large amount of the salt we use at the table is derived directly from the sea water, the major part comes from salt mines like the one at Stanica. The salt from the mines is in the form of a solid mass, which is cut into blocks, and is then evaporated in water.

It has been estimated that if all the sea water were to dry up in the same manner as did the sea at Stanica it would yield no less than 600,000 cubic miles of salt, about fourteen and a half times the bulk of the entire earth of Europe above high water mark, mountains and all.

KOREAN DUELS.

They Are Mostly Verbal and Rarely Result in Bloodshed.

Fighting is probably nowhere a wholly lost art, although in some countries it is so modified that it is a harmless amusement. One recalls the "wax bullets" of the French duels. Another illustration is given in a book called "Things Korean," by Dr. H. N. Allen. It seems that in that country the battle is between a gentleman and his wife, the prime requisite for a fight is the presence of peace.

Two men may begin a wordy battle, separated it may be by the width of the road across which space they proceed to describe their grievances. They are polite, and the man who heaped up his words till they were as high as his breath fails. They are splendid talkers, and this discussion maintained in loud tones to the all the wayfarers and the neighbors may hear.

Soon an interested crowd assembles, and their presence naturally leads to inspiration to the performers, who redouble their efforts, till one of them may finally wind up a severe tirade addressed to the crowd regarding the quality of the food of a person who could conduct himself as his opponent has done.

This will cause the other man to start across the road for the malinger of his progenitors, and then the self-appointed peacemaker will step out from the crowd and attempt to restrain the valiant one, who, finding himself in firm hands, will struggle with well-measured earnestness to get at his antagonist, who by this time is himself struggling in the struggle of his own peacemaker.

Should one of these men actually wish to get at his enemy he can simply jump out of his loose garments, which will be left in the peacemaker's hands. Sometimes this happens accidentally, and an unintentioned encounter is precipitated. Ordinarily, however, the personal violence on these occasions is restricted to pulling hair or possibly drawing blood from an accidental bump on the nose. Blood never falls to calm both parties and cast a spell over the crowd, probably because of its marked effect on the white garments thus ruined.

An Approach to Perpetual Motion.

A clock is to be seen at Brussels which comes about as near being a perpetual motion machine as can be invented, for the man does the winding. The following is the method by which it works. A shaft exposed to the solar rays causes an up draft of air, which sets the fan in motion. The fan actuates mechanism which raises the weight of the clock until it reaches the top and then puts a break on the fan till the weight has gone down a little, when the fan is again liberated and proceeds to act as before. As long as the sun shines frequently enough and the machinery does not wear out the clock will keep in motion.—Pearson's Weekly.

No Rebate.

When Adelina Patti visited Madrid one time in company with her husband, Signor Nicolini, who thought himself a tenor singer, there was an effort to engage the noted artist for an especial occasion. The opera director asked Patti:

"How much will you charge us if you and your honored husband appear on this occasion for one night?"

"Ten thousand francs, sir."

"And how much if you come without the signor, madame?"

"Ten thousand francs."

A Use For the Myphen.

A teacher had just given a lesson on the hyphen, and, thinking that his class understood it now, he wrote the words "birds-nest" on the blackboard. "Now, boys, why do we have a hyphen between the birds and nest?" asked the teacher.

Several hands went up, and the teacher pointed to a small boy who seemed very anxious to answer. For this he roared on, "was the reply—Tid-Bits."

TOO BUSY TO DO BUSINESS.

For the past two months, on account of pressure of other work, I have withdrawn my usual Optical Ad's. Notwithstanding this, the stream of patients continued. This, of course, was very gratifying, as proving the value of a reputation for good work.

I have now made arrangements which will leave me with more time to attend to this important work, and will be glad to make appointments with all who suffer from eye troubles.

Every single case will receive the most patient and careful attention. My many years practical experience in this line is a guarantee of accuracy.

A Chicken Story

A few weeks ago Percy Kent was digging a well for an agricultural man some miles east of town. Percy had put a charge of dynamite in the well, which was some seventy-five feet deep. He had just scrambled out after igniting the fuse. The charge went off and he went home for the night. The next morning he found that the explosion had had no apparent effect on the rock of the well. But the proprietor of the farm, on going into his chicken house, which was near the well, the next morning, found his prize rooster, which had been in the house, with its head chopped off and lying near it was a ten pound stone. Also in the roof, which was made of shingles and planks, there was a hole just the size of the stone. Apparently the whole force of the dynamite had been expended in raising that one stone and it must have gone into the air a frightful distance, as it had not come down for at least half an hour after the explosion. When it did come down, in the night presumably, it had crashed through the roof of the chicken house with dire results to the lonely chicken.
